EMPOWERING CLIENTS | ADVANCING JUSTICE

Schaefer Halleen, LLC, is devoted to providing the highest quality legal representation for individuals and groups affected by illegal conduct by employers or corporate entities. The following principles are intended to guide our practice and future growth, and give every client an understanding of the values that created the firm and drive our focus on experience, commitment, and results.

Give a Voice to Victims of Illegal Conduct

Individuals who have been wronged often cannot find an effective advocate, and thus are left with no real voice in the legal system. Once we determine that we can effectively prosecute their claims, we give our clients this voice. We assist them in forcefully telling their story, both in standing up to corporate adversaries and in pursuing their claims through to judgment, if necessary.

Limit Representation to our Areas of Experience

The merits of the case and our experience with relevant issues are the primary focus in the intake decision process. When we offer representation, our clients can take comfort in knowing that their case has strong merits and that they have a zealous advocate with decades of experience in handling precisely the issues that may arise in their case.
